REMINISCENSES OF OUR PIONEER DAYS

Gleanings From the Records Left By Men Who Laid the Foundation of Our County.

Early in April, 1872, arrangements were completed for the building of a Methodist church at Halfmoon Bay, plans for which were prepared by a San Francisco architect. The new structure was to be a decidedly pretentious one, having a frontage of 30 feet by a depth of 50 feet, with walls 20 feet in height, and was to be finished outside in rustic and hardfinished in the interior. The new church was to be located at the corner of Johnston and Miramontes streets, fronting on Johnston street. When finished and furnished it was expected to provide seating room for from 250 to 300 people.

Shortly after 9 o'clock on the evening of April 11th, 1872, the usually quiet town of San Mateo was the scene of what was perhaps one of the most dastardly and cold blooded murders ever recorded in the history of San Mateo county, when Claus Klerck, a member of the firm of Klerck & Husing, dealers in general merchandise, was almost instantly killed. An unusually quiet and peaceable citizen, Klerck was shot to death in cold blood for no other reason than that on the previous day he had refused to sell his assailant goods to the value of $50 on his very doubtful credit. Klerck had closed his store about 9 o'clock and shortly after his wife heard him close the front gate of his residence. A few minutes later Mrs. Klerck heard the gate close again and at almost the same instant she heard the sound of a gun shot. Hastening to the door she arrived in time to hear her husband exclain: "I am shot." She immediately asked who fired the shot, to which he replied: "I don't know." These were the last words the victim uttered, as by the time his wife could reach his side he had expired. At that time no one had the slightest idea as to the identity of the perpetrator of the dastardly crime, and word of the affair was immediately sent to Sheriff Edgar at Redwood City, who secured the assistance of John Crowley and proceeded to San Mateo to investigate, finding the citizens of that locality under great excitement and making threats of lynch law should the cowardly perpetrator of the crime fall into their hands. Investigation by the Sheriff showed that the victim had been shot from in front, the ball entering the body just above and slightly in front of the hip and passing entirely through the body. There was but a slight clue upon which the sheriff could start, and no established opinion among the residents of San Mateo as to the possible identity of the assailant. At the back end of the lot, the sheriff found a wire and picket fence from w hich one of the slats had been removed, and foot prints indicating that it was in this direction that the assassin had made his escape. That the murder had been deliberately planned was indicated by the fact that a short distance from this opening and in the county road was found indications that a horse had been recently tied. After working in vain until daylight, the sheriff learned from the driver of the firm's delivery wagon that Joe Herling, known generally as "Mountain Joe," a man who bore a rather unsavory reputation, had had a quarrel with the deceased over some goods. Acting upon this information, Sheriff Edgar secured the assistance of E. Walker and started for the cabin of Herling located some eight miles away on the Halfmoon Bay side of the mountains. On the way out the suspicion of the sheriff was strengthened by the report of the keeper of the toll gate, who informed him that on the previous day Herling had gone over the road to San Mateo and that late in the night someone had returned over the road and passed without the formality of stopping to deposit the customary toll. Herling was finally located near his cabin but managed to elude the officers and started back for San Mateo. On the road he was met by the officers who were searching for him and was placed under arrest without making any particular resistance. After being placed in the jail the murderer took things very coolly, making light of the affair and passing the time in joking with those about him. At the same time he made no effort to deny the crime, but calmly told the particulars of the affair. The only excuse he offered for the crime was the statement that a few days before Klerck had promised to sell him $50 worth of goods on credit, but when he went to get the goods Klerck had told him that as he had lost his place he could not have the goods. The murderer was a Swiss about 45 years of age who had lived about the county for some time and at one time had been in an asylum for the insane and was sometimes called "Crazy Joe." A short time before the murder he had been dispossessed of his land, and this fact was the cause of his refusal of credit by Klerck. The victim was a young man who had resided in San Mateo for about four years, and left a wife and young child. He was a member of Maricopa Tribe of Red Men of San Mateo and his funeral was conducted by the members of that organization, the remains being taken to San Francisco for interment.

OBSERVES 20TH ANNIVERSARY

Secretary Lovie Makes Note of Natal Day of Prosperous Association.

On Tuesday last Geo. W. Lovie, secretary of the San Mateo County Building and Loan Association, had his flag flying from the new pole in front of his office in honor of the twentieth anniversary of the first meeting of the stockholders of that association.

At that first meeting the following named gentlemen were named as directors; A J. Marcus, Samuel McCurdy, Joseph L. Ross, C. J. Hynding, Claus Hadler and James Crowe, of which number Dr. Ross and Mr. Crowe are still in active service on the board.

The first officers elected were A. J. Marcus, president; S. McCurdy, vice-president; C. J. Hynding, treasurer, and Geo. W. Lovie, secretary, the latter still serving in the same capacity.

From the small beginning made on May 17, 1890, the association has attained a prominent and enviable position among like associations in the state, now having 3910 shares in force with assets of over $250,000 and a reserve fund of $5000, reflecting credit upon the managment and honor upon the community which has so well sustained it. May it live long and continue to prosper.

WILL PREACH TO GRADUATES

Rev. Carl M. Warner Will Deliver Sermon to Sequoia High.

The Baccalaureate Sermon to this year's graduating class from Sequoia union high school will be delivered next Sunday at 4 p. m. in the assembly hall of the high school by Rev. Carl M. Warner of Palo Alto. The plan of having such a sermon has become a custom in Redwood and is deemed a wise one. Young people on such occasions are more likely to be impressed with the importance of what issald to them than at less momentous times. To have some well-known clergyman take the time and trouble to prepare an address for their benefit ought to impress the youth of the school, both those who are ready to assume life's duties and those who are to remain longer under its guidance and control. In the last five years a number of very helpful and eloquent sermons have been delivered to the highschool students. The one to be given next Sunday will not suffer by comparison. Some ten or twelve years ago Mr. Warner, when a student in the State University at Berkeley was enough of an orator to win the Carnot medal in a contest with the Stanford students. It is expected that he will present some thoughts well worthy of the time and place. Not only the families of the graduates and alumni, but those interested in the welfare of the school are cordially invited to be present. Appropriate music will be rendered by the senior choir of the Congregational church.

Palo Alto Man Wins Suit.

Joe Larkin of Palo Alto won a suit involving $700 in the Superior Court of San Francisco Friday against the proprietors of the Portola cafe in the basement of the Flood Building. About a year ago Larkin established a stand for the sale of flowers in the cafe under the verbal agreement that the owners should buy his fixtures any time he desired to turn them over. This contract was repudiated and Larkin sued for specific performance. He proved his case and got judgment accordingly.

CITY COUNCIL IN REGULAR SESSION

Determine Route of Extension of Phelps Street and Prepare to Condemn Lands.

The most important action of the City Council Monday evening, as far as the proper care of public business is concerned, was the creation of a new position, to be known as City Mechanical and Electrical Engineer. As indicated by the name given to the position, the new employee will have especial supervision af the water and electrical systems of the city. It will especially be his duty to keep in proper condition the water meters, and to look after the machinery of the fire and street departments, and after the installation of the new fire alarm system will see that this important service is kept in efficient condition. That the new position will result in a material saving to the city at this time is shown by the fact that already no less than 120 water meters have been reported as failing to keep any record of the water passing through them, and that as a result the city is paying out for water considerably more than it receives from consumers while the account should show a slight profit. The new employee is B. L. Werder, whose practical experience should amply qualify him for the work.

At the opening of the session, at which all the Trustees were present, the usual monthly reports of the city officers were presented. The report of Treasurer Towne shows the receipts of the general fund to have been ss follows for the month:

Taxes	6840 00
Water Collections	641 10
Dog Licenses	14 00
Special Permits	5 00
Water Connections	30 00
Roller hire	2 00
Sale of Maps	9 75
Miscellaneous	27 05

The expenditures for the month were $3,387.64, leaving a balance on hand of $10,952.

It was decided to contribute $300 from the city treasury to the Fourth of July celebration fund. In the same connection, Trustee Sampson reported that the firemen desired that their apparatus be put in presentable condition for use in the parade, and he was given authority to have the work done.

An invitation from General George S. Evans Womens Relief Corps to attend the Memorial Day exercises at the Alhombra May 30th was accepted.

Several complaints of defective sidewalks were received and the city attorney was instructed to notify the owners of the property complained of to lay concrete walks.

McGarvey, Hess & Kreiss notified the Council that they had completed the sewer work in district 14. Wednesday, May 25, was set as the time for hearing objections to the work.

A definite map of the lines of the extension of Phelps street, prepared by city engineer Neuman under the direction of the street committee, was approved and the city attorney instructed to prepare preliminary proceedings for the commencement of condemnation suits against all property owners.

Chairman Merrill presented a bond of the Telephone Company guaranteeing the restoration of streets in their proposed work in this city. In presenting the bonds Mayor Merrill stated that he had been assured from official sources that the Telephone Company had set apart $26,000 to be expended in the extension and betterment of their local lines, and that with other pending improvements the expenditures on the system in this city would reach a total of $40,000. The bond was approved and permission for the work granted.

Street Superintendent Dickey presented specifications for the construction of concrete sidewalks and curbs which he recommended be used on all work of this character in the city. The specifications were approved.

The Clerk was directed to advertise for bids for the construction of sidewalks in front of the parks on Mound street.

Street Superintenden Dickey was authorized to purchase a lawn mower for use on the lawns in California Square and to provide for watering the trees recently planted on the reservoir site.

Chairman Merrill reported that he had submitted the plans and specifications for the new bridge at East Bradford street to Colonel Biddle and that they had been approved. The plans as approved by the War Department were adopted and it is probable that at the next meeting bids for the construction of the bridge will be called for.

Trustee Hynding presented an estimate of the cost of needed repairs to streets, prepared by Street Superintendent Dickey, as follows:

Mound street, filling and oiling	1911 00
Arguello street, filling and oiling	3172 00
Jefferson street, oiling	660 00
Phelps street, oiling	900 00
Washington street, oiling	825 00
Rogers street, oiling	225 00
Stambaugh street, filling and rolling	640 00

The estimate was referred to the finance committee with a view to determining to what extent the cash in the treasury would permit of the work at this time. Trustee Hynding urged that these repairs were seriously needed, especially on Mound and Arguello streets, and should be given the preference over bridge work.

Ordinance No. 86, regulating the speed of railroad trains, was adopted.

The usual list of monthly bills was allowed.

An adjournment was then taken until Wednesday evening, May 25th.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

Shows Faith in Future of City.

The information furnished the Council at its meeting last Monday evening by Mayor Merrill as to the plans of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company for the improvement of its plant in this city is worthy of more than passing notice. That improvements in the system are to be made without delay will in itself be welcome news to the people of the city, for it not to be supposed that even the management of the company will deny that the service it not what it should be.

But the announced determination of the management of the company to expend the very considerable sum of $40,000 in the immediate extension and improvement of the system in this city means much more that the desire simply to accommodate its present business and to provide a modern service. It means that faith in the growth and development of the city is not confined to local enthusiasts. It signifies that the possibilities and advantages of the city are now becoming recognized by those who view the situation solely from the aspect of cold business calculation. Corporations, especially such as have no local interests to serve, are never actuated by sentiment. The men who have the management of great institutions of this character are not inclined to expend any great portion of their money until they can see some certain prospect of assured returns.

It is generally recognized that the management of the Telephone business in this section is in the hands of men of the most conservative character. That these men are arranging for this extensive expenditure at this time must certainly be taken to mean that they have become in some certain means convinced that the city is on the eve of a material growth and that in the not distant future it is to become an important commercial center.

READY TO GRADUATE

Pupils of Sequoia Union High School Preparing to Receive Diplomas.

The Senior Class of Sequioa Union High School who expect to graduate on May 27th, is made up of the following members: Jennie Botto, Belmont; Edna Christensen, Vera Gerwin, Sophie Nobs, Louise Pitcher, Dudley Pitcher, Mardele Robinson, Margaret Winter, Lisle Winter, Redwood City; Arthur Kirkpatrick Jr, La Honda; Anna Kronquist, Belmont.

While this class is not so large as that of last year, it is still about an average class in size. Before the Christmas vacation it contained two other members, Hiram Jens of Belmont who was compelled to withdraw on account of sickness, and Richard Davidson of the same place who withdrew to enter a business college, and more quickly fit himself for a business life. It is certainly to be regretted that they were not able to continue until graduation should place them with those whom the trustees and faculty have honored with the diploma of this High School.

Three members of the class — Arthur Kirkpatrick, Jr., Dudley Pitcher and Louise Pitcher entered with the class which graduated in 1909, but were compelled to remain out of school a year, and so graduate in 1910. Another member of the class has attended this school but one year having done three years work in Benecia, Brattleboro, Vermont and the Polytechnic High School of San Francisco. The other members of the class entered in 1906.

Need Call of the Distressed.

The readiness of the people of Redwood City to respond to the cry of distress has been strongly emphasized during the past week. Ever since people were made aware of the fact that there was in their midst a mother and children suffering for the necessaries of life through the perfidy of a husband and father, responces of both private and public nature have been numerous and substantial. Private aid has been extended sufficient to provide for immediate necessities, while the Board of Supervisors generously and wisely undertook to see that provisions were made for the support of the children until the mother could find means of providing for them. The immense audience which gathered at the Gem Theater Thursday evening in response to the benefit so generously tendered by Manager Meyer also gave evidence of the public interest in the needy ones. Every seat in the house was filled by an audience which, in addition to the satisfaction of a good deed done, enjoyed an unusually good evening's entertainment, one of the especial features of which was the pictorial presentation of "The Angelus." The extent of the popular patronage of this charitable effort of Manager Meyer may be judged from the fact that the proceeds will net a benefit of nearly $30 for the needy family.

IS COBURN COMPETENT

For the Second Time the Right of the Old Man to Care for Himself is Questioned.

For the second time Loren Coburn, the aged Pescadero millionaire, is before the Superior Court to be declared incompetent. He won the first battle in the Appellate court and he now appears more vigorous than before for the fray. The case was called Wednesday. It is being heard before Judge Maurice Dooling of Hollister who is sitting in place of Judge Buck. Archy Treat and Archer Kincaid represent Coburn while Ross and Ross of this city and Matt I. Sullivan and Theodore Roche of San Francisco are appearing for Azero Coburn, of Holyoke, Mass., nephew of Loren Coburn, who instituted the suit against his uncle in both cases.

The feature of Wednesday's proceedings was an attack made by the attroneys for the petitioners on C. L. Littlefield, who is employed by Loren Coburn as book keeper and general business assistant. Littlefield was called to the witness stand by Attorney Sullivan, and it was apparent in a few minutes that the lawyer was possessed of some information that puzzled Littlefield greatly. It was admitted subsequently that Messrs, Sullivan and Roche some time ago sent two investigators, H. Wilson and J. McCarthy, who had ingratiated themselves with Littlefield and gained his confidence.

From the questions propounded to Littlefield it developed that the "investigators" had so improved their opportunities that they entered into a contract with Littlefield whereby the King City ranch in Monterey county was to be obtained from Loren Coburn for $25,000 and sold for not less than $400,000, Littlefield, McCarthy and Wilson to share the profits. This, Attorney Roche contended, showed the designing nature of Littlefield and the danger to which Coburn in his incompetency is subjected.

Azero Coburn went on the stand late Wednesday and concluded his testimony yesterday afternoon. He was subjected to a grilling cross examination bat the hands of Attorney Treat.

Toward the end of ths day's proceedings Azro Coburn was called to the stand to testify about his uncle's eccentricities. He told of the old man's insistance that he owned 50 square miles in San Mateo county. Coburn had on one occasion included school lands and land of the Catholic church with his own property in framinng leases, said the witness. After telling his nephew how much land he owned, and enjoining him not to divulge the secret, Coburn would immediately impart the same information to some one else, Azro Coburn testified.

He told of deeds that the aged millionaire had signed to property which he didn't own. When the nephew referred to his uncle's health as being poor, Attorney A. J. Treat for the defense, told his client to do a Marathon walk in court. This Loren Coburn did with a firm step until ordered to desist by the court.

Treat's attempt to have Azro divulge the exact amount of money expended for the purpose of having his uncle adjudged incompetent was men with strenuous objections by opposing counsel and the court sustained the objection.

A letter was introduced yesterday that was written to Miss S. S. Upton, before the former trial, by Azro Coburn. The epistle urged Miss Upton to use her influence to bring all the quarrelling relatives of Coburn together so that matters could be adjusted to the end that all litigation would be dropped and that his uncle could spend his last days in peace and happiness.

Late yesterday afternoon Carl Coburn was placed on the stand and testified to the irrational acts of his uncle. The case will go on again next Monday. It will continue for several days...

REGULAR MEETING OF SUPERVISORS

County Board Holds Session and Disposes of Much Routine Business.

The board of supervisors met in regular session last Monday, there being present Supervisors Casey, Frances and Chairman McEvoy. Supervisor Blackburn was present at the afternoon session of the board.

R. F. Chilcott on behalf of the Central Trust Co. presented a map of Hillcrest and asked that it be accepted. It was referred to the County Surveyor For his approval.

Chairman McEvoy made a statement to the board that having been informed by the W. & J. Sloan Company that they were unable to furnish the same quality of linoleum for the courthouse that was called for in the contract, awarded to them in 1906, he had taken the trouble to invite other houses to present bids.

J. F. Corkery, representing the Sloan Company, stated that the old contract called for 5-16 inch Battleship linoleum, a size that is not now manufactured. His company was able to supply about one-third of the amount required of that size, and could complete the contract with 1-4 inch material, allowing a rebate for the smaller size. He thought that the Sloan Company, on account of its great loss in the wreck of the courthouse by the earthquake should be favored by the board.

Mr. Walters, of the firm of D. N. & E. Walters, was present and asked for permission to bid on the linoleum.

District Attorney Bullock was asked concerning the Sloan contract. He said the contract could be amended or modified as the earthquake was an act of God and the agreement was not binding so far as Sloan & Co. was concerned. He thought a lighter material could be used if the firm would give a rebate. Blackburn was in favor of giving the work to Sloan & Co. in view of the loss suffered by them in not filling the contract in 1906. After considerable discussion the board concluded to purchase the quarter inch material and agreed to meet as a whole on Wednesday in San Francisco to make a selection of the linoleum and shades. The latter will most liekly be bought from Mr. Walters.

The application of Ansel M. Easton for an electric road franchise went over until the next meeting, the matter being still before the Superior Court on an injunction writ sued out by certain property owners at Easton.

In response to the call for bids issued by the clerk the following proposals were received for publishing the delinquent tax list:.

Redwood City Democrat—First insertion, per square, 75 cents; each subsequent insertion, 40 cents.

South City Enterprise—75 cents per square for four insertions.

Times-Gazette—First insertion, per square, 25 cents; each subsequ nt insertion, 15 cents, making a total of 70 cents for each square.

Francis moved that the contract be awarded to the Times-Gazette, that paper being the lowest bidder. He was seconded by McEvoy and the motion was lost, Casey voting no.

Chairman McEvoy asked Casey what his objections were to the bid as it was the lowest. Casey replied, "O! on general principles."

E. I. Woodman representing the Enterprise ,who had the next lowest bid, requested Casey to give the contract to the Times-Gazette as its estimate was the lowest. He asked him to lay aside all personal feelings and considerations. Casey still remained obdurate. When Blackburn arrived in the afternoon Frances renewed his motion and it was seconded by Blackburn and the Times-Gazette received the contract.

J. J. Welch was granted permission to transfer his liquor license to another building at North Millbrae.

The board examined the plans submitted by William Brown for the improvement of the courthouse grounds and action toward the acceptance of any one of the plans submitted was continued until next meeting.

Edward Stevens was appointed watchman at the new courthouse instead of W.Kelting who failed to qualify.

Donald McKenzie was directed to have the courthouse dome secured against leakage. The work is to cost $125.

Mr. Phillips, representing the firm of Phillips and Rainey, asked the board to examine the work of cleaning and pointing the stone on the courthouse. The board agreed to inspect the work during the noon recess.

Ordinance 235, establishing certain additional voting precincts in the county, was adopted on motion of Casey, seconded by Francis.

Mrs. Adeline Allen of Redwood City applied for aid in the support of her eight minor children, representing to the board that she had been deserted by her husband and was in need.

Six of the children were allowed six dollars a month each.

Casey was authorized to continue work on the County road from the Eleven Mile House by days work.

Sureyor Neuman presented a map of a portion of the Mission road in the First township, showing that the electric railroad through its failure to keep to the center of the road with its tracks had encroached upon the rights of the public at Millet's place. The clerk was directed to notify the United Railroads Company to appear before the board at its next meeting and show cause why is should not move its tracks to the center of the road.

Soldiers Meet With Defeat.

Uncle Sam's boys from the Presidio thought they could play ball, but one visit to Redwood served to convince them that they had something to learn about the national game. Last Sunday they met the local invincibles and the score was 3 to 1 in favor of Redwood Next Sunday the home team and San Mateo will meet on the local diamond. The Haywards team some time ago took the measure of the San Mateo boys and the Presidio team had previously beaten the Haywards. Doping it out this way, Redwood ought to defeat San Mateo. The Redwood team this season has played remarkable ball. They have hadsome of the nicest compliments given them by the San Francisco dailies, having been spoken of as one of the speediest teams in the state, and they have certainly shown that they are. Next Sunday when the local nine meets San Mateo the game will be the most interesting one of the season. The local boys having been defeated by San Mateo last year are more than anxious to wipe out the score.

PLAN BETTER METHODS

New Health Board Organizes and Prepares for Improved Sanitation.

Thanks to the public spirit of its physicians and the energetic action of Trustee E. H. Sampson, chairman of the committee on public health and morals of the City Council Redwood City is soon to have a thoroughly equipped health department as a portion of its municipal machinery. Thus is marked another step forward in the progress of the city to a place in the front rank of modern municipal progress, and an assurance of the continuance of the healthful conditions which have in the past, thanks to our splendid climatic surroundings, been enjoyed by our people.

Following the suggestions of the Council at its meeting two weeks ago, practical organization of the Board of Health has already been made, with Doctors Ross, Boyer, Taylor and Taggart and Trustee Sampson as its members. The officers of the Board are Dr. Miles Taylor, president; E. H. Sampson, vice president; and Dr. H. W. Taggart, secretary. Acting upon the suggestion of the Council, the Board has chosen Dr. J. L. Ross asCity Health Officer.

Owing to the fact that the existing city health ordinances are decidedly antiquated and incomplete as, well as so at varience with the present state law as to be practically inoperative, but little active work can be done until these defects have been remedied .This phase of the situation has already been given careful consideration by the members of the new board, and suitable ordinances are being drafted and will probably be ready for submission at the next meeting of the City Council. In drafting these new ordinances the members of the Board have taken advantage of the experiences of other cities similarly situated, and have endeavored to incorporate the best of the laws which modern experience has dictated, and while endeavoring to secure effective legislation will avoid as far as possible the introduction of over radical methods of the hampering of the people with needless restrictions. This care and work will undoubtedly provide the city with a set of health laws which should receive the hearty support of its residents in their enforcement.

In discussing the designs of the Health Board and the scope of his immediate future, Dr. Ross expressed the opinion that the questions demanding the first attention were the regulation of those food products most easily susceptible to contamination, such as milk, meats and vegetables. First a means will be provided for the inspection of milk, both for the purpose of determining that it is of proper quality and that the method of delivery of the various dairymen is sanitary and calculated to protect this important article of consumption from contamination. Following this will come the regulation of the disposal of meats to the public so as to prevent the danger of contamination through the presence of the fly. To accomplish this it will probably be necessary to require that all markets where meat is handles to be screened in such manner as to render it as nearly as may be possible for flies and other insects to come in contact with the meat as it is displayed. While to some extent these regulations must be strict, they will not be so radical as to work an unnecessary hardship.

Another important matter to receive attention will be the provision of proper quarantine regulations, with a view to the prevention of possible infection from contagious diseases This important provision, Dr. Ross has found has been entirely omitted from the present city laws. At present there is no satisfactory means of even protecting the pupils of the schools from the constant danger of exposure to the contagious diseases incident to childhood.

After these important matters have been disposed of,f attention will be given to the general sanitary condition of the city. More stringent regulations will be provided for plumbing and the disposition of sewerage and household waste. Since his appointment as Health Officer Dr. Ross has been giving these subjects much consideration, and for the purpose of thoroughly acquainting himself with the most modern methods has visited neighboring cities and made a study of their laws. Thus he is especially equipped for the work he has undertaken ,while the earnest manner in which Trustee Sampson has devoted himself to the subject insures the hearty cooperation of the Council.

LONG OFFICIAL RECORD

John Christ Served People of Redwood City for Many Years.

When he voluntarily laid down the cares of an active life and retired at the close of his last official term, former Town Marshal John Christ rounded out a long life of business activity which may well give him cause for pride during his remaining years,. Coming to Redwood City when but a young man, he has sepnt the best portion of his life in the service of the people of his chosen home, retiring to his well earned rest with the emcomiums of his fellow citizens.

Coming to Redwood City in 1862, Mr. Christ has practically made this his home ever since, with the solitary exception of a short time spent in San Francisco. Following this short absence, he returned here and in 1863 took unto himself a wife and settled down to business. By the older residents of the city he will be remembered as having been somewhat extensively engaged in the business of dealer in wood and coal.

In was while in this business that he first took up public duties, being elected as Town Marshal for the first time in 1877 and then combining the duties of the office, which were then not onerous with his private business. After serving one year, he again decided to devote his entire time to business. In 1883 he was again called to the office of Marshal, which he this time filled for five years, still continuing to maintain his business. Again finding that the work of the office interfered with his business he declined further election. He was only allowed to remain entirely in private life for a short time however, as in 1892 he was elected a member of the Board of Town Trustees,which office he filled for three years. In 1896, Mr. Christ was again elected Town Marshal, and this time decided to devote his entire attention to the duties of the office, disposing of his wood and coal business. Since that time he has occupied the office of Marshal continuously, until at the last election he declined a renomination feeling that advancing years demanded that he should take life easier and enjoy thee fruits of his honorable career. In leaving the public service Mr. Christ takes with him the best wishes of a large circle of friends, who will wish him a long life yet to be spent among the people he has honorably served.

DEATH CALLS FORMER PASTOR

Rev. Henry E. Jewett Passes to His Eternal Reward.

Many of Redwood City's old residents will hear with regret of the death of Rev. Henry E. Jewett who passed away at his home in Berkeley on Monday after a short illness from heart trouble. Mr. Jewett was the pastor of the Congregational church in this city from 1865 until the middle 70s and was one of the most zealous and popular clergymen Redwood City has had. Since his departure to Berkeley he has frequently visited his old friends here, all of whom he held in fond rememberence. The occasion of his last visit was at the rededication of the Congregational church after the earthquake.When death called his old parishioners he came to comfort the living and to pay tribute to the dead, and in the performance of this labor of love and kindness he came often to Redwood during the years that have passed since his removal to Berkeley.

Mr. Jewett was a native of Vermont, aged 68 years. He leaves a wife who was formerly Miss Dwinell, and five children. For many years past he had been engaged in home missionary work.

RESULTS THAT REMAIN

Are Appreciated by Redwood City People.

Thousands who suffer from backache and kidney complaint have tried one remedy after another, finding only temporary benefit. This is discouraging, but there is one special kidney medicine that cures permanently and there is plenty of proof right here in Redwood City.

Here is the testimony of one who used Doan's Kidney Pills years ago, and now states that the cure was lasting.

Fred Haussler, 101 Stambaugh street, Redwood City, Cal., says: "My kidneys were badly disordered and the secretions from these organs were unnatural. Knowing that difficulties of this kind often resulted seriously if allowed to go unchecked, I was anxious to get relief. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, I got a box at P. A. Ryan's drug store and their use completely removed the symptoms of my trouble. In July 1907, I publicly testified in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills and at this time I gladly confirm that statement. During the past two years, I have been free from kidney complaint. This fact justifies my speaking more highly than ever of Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Assessor's Instructions

To Owners of Real Estate and Personal Property

The law requires each and every person who owns any class of property to annually, during the months of March, April or May, file a statement with the Assessor or his deputy in the county where the property is located. You should give a statement of all property owned by you on the first Monday in March at 12 o'clock m.

If you hold mortgages against others send in a mortgage statement showing amount due on each mortgage on the first Monday in March at 12 o'clock m.

No change can be made by the Assessor after he turns his books over to the Board of Supervisors on the first Monday in July The Board then sets as a Board of Equalization during the month of July.

Remember, if you fail to give in your assessment you fail to comply with the law and may cause yourself, the Assessor and Tax Collector much trouble, and very likely cause yourself expense.

It is much more satisfactory to the Assessor, as well as to yourself, to have your assessment correct when you go to pay your taxes.
